A WORD FOR JAP MINTO.

The hardest fight is being made on Jap Minto for county treasurer. Mr. Minto has made a model treasurer. He has handled the county funds personally. He has applied them immediately to the payment of warrants. He has engaged in no warrant stamping for friends or foes. He has for this reason incurred the ill-will of some of the parties who made money out of the county funds, and whose profits were cut off under Jap Minto's fearless administration. Jap Minto cashes all warrants, as they come so long as the money lasts. If he has money on hand not needed he advertises for warrants and stops interest. He keeps surplus funds at one bank only as a special deposit. It is not loaned out. If Mr. Minto is elected treasurer there will not be a vestige of warrant scalping business left in Marion county. He keeps the same order in all the funds. The county will be put on a cash basis and all interest expense which has heretofore been from $4,000 to $5,000 a year will be stopped. Taxpayers regardless of party, who want to put an end to banks and money-lenders speculating off the county funds, should vote for the man who has put his foot upon it in the interest of the common people.

Nine were successful in getting certificates in Lincoln county at the last institute.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The Marion county Republican ticket is composed of some of the best and most competent men in the county. All the candidates for county offices have been serving the people in the offices which they seek, except Mr. Hobart for assessor, Mr. Davis for commissioner, and Mr. Terrell for judge, and Mr. Jones for county superintendent. Their records and services speak for themselves louder than any newspaper article can. The new names on the ticket are Grove P. Terrell of Mehama for county judge. Mr. Terrell has been a merchant and hotel keeper for many years, was once county commissioner, is familiar with the methods of doing public business and with the laws of the state. He has built roads and bridges and held several minor public offices.

J. N. Davis of Silverton for county commissioner is a pioneer farmer, a close economist and well known citizen of that part of the county. With Mr. Terrell and Mr. Watson of Turner (the hold-over commissioner) they would constitute a well distributed county legislature from a geographical standpoint.

The honesty, integrity and Republicanism of Davis and Terrell is unquestioned.

For assessor the Republicans present the name of J. W. Hobart, of Garfield precinct. Mr. Hobart is a farmer, a pioneer Republican, a man who has had a great deal of experience in making assessments and will do justice to the farmers and business interests of this county if elected.

Geo. W. Jones, principal of the Turner schools, is a young man who stands high in his profession. He is a gentleman and a scholar who will be a credit to the public schools of our county. Mr. Jones is a young man of clean character and correct habits, a lover of children, a native son of Oregon, a graduate of the State university, and a product of our public schools.

The Marion county Republican ticket is the equal in ability, honesty and popularity of any the party has ever placed before the people.

PUSH OLD WILLAMETTE.

The people of Salem should push hard by turning out en masse Wednesday evening at Reed's opera house and encourage Prof. Matthews and the students who have undertaken to build up old Willamette. The college is a credit to our city and with energetic men and women at the heads of the departments, and its work on a broad basis of education for the masses, the school can become a credit to Oregon. Salem recently raised a fund of $25,000 for the enlarged woolen mills, with some outside help. With proper management Salem can do as much for Willamette and Willamette in turn will do as much for Salem as the Woolen Mill.

BABY'S COLIC.
Nature intended that every woman should look forward to the coming of her baby with joy and hope, unclouded by anxiety. Almost painless parturition is quite the usual thing among civilized people. Even in our own country it occasionally happens with women in robust health and good condition. It ought to be the rule instead of the exception; and it is a fact that a very large proportion of the usual pain and suffering may be avoided by looking after the mother's general health, and specially strengthening the particular organs concerned in parturition. Many mothers have been brought through the trying time almost painlessly by the aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It prepares the system for delivery by imparting the organic strength and elasticity which the mother specially needs; shortens the time of labor and of confinement; promotes the secretion of abundant nourishment for the child and fortifies the entire constitution against the after period of depression and weakness. It's use should begin in the early months of gestation—the earlier the better.

Mrs. FERN HUNT, of Glenview, Schenectady Co., N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman with child, so I got two bottles last September, and December 15th, I had a twelve-pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not sick in any way. I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room and went to bed. I never had an after-pain or any other of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with the other babies. I always had a doctor and there he could not help me very much, but this time my mother and my husband were along with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

FARM NEWS.

From six to ten bushels of seed is the usual yield for acre of alfalfa.

Lard oil consists chiefly of oleine and for greasing wool, it is superior to olive oil.

The first carload of California cherries was shipped east on the 18th of May.

There is no fruit which responds to thorough cultivation as substantially as strawberries.

White oak trees can be safely transplanted if properly cut back and the work properly done.

It is not safe to pasture either cattle or sheep on alfalfa, as they are liable to bloat when it is fed green.

The black walnut tree commences to bear when it is about 8 years old and is a very fast grower. A tree at the age of from 35 to 40 will make good marketable boards.

The recent decision by a Chicago judge that bucket shops were as legitimate as the board of trade is refreshing to the farmer of this great grain producing country.

Sow one to two pounds of rape seed per acre and you will have an abundance of feed for a few sheep or pigs. They may be given access to it when the rape is two months old.

There is no better or cheaper way of growing hogs than to pasture them on alfalfa. One acre will furnish pasture for from ten to twenty hogs per season.

The fact that overproduction is the principal reason why hogs are low does not deter some who are determined to launch into the business in North Carolina and many new yards are being planted.

The fruit crops in the eastern states are very promising at present and an immense amount of fruit is expected to be in market this year. The bountiful crop in the east will more than balance the shortage in the west.

Oakland capitalists, it is reported, have asked for a grant of five acres at Hollister upon which they propose to erect a plant for preparing flax for market. The annual flax product at Hollister amounts to about $30,000.

Cost of producing one pound of poultry does not exceed cost of one pound of beef or pork, yet the former will sell, either live weight or dressed, for double as much as either of the latter.

Burn a pound of sulphur in your poultry house and you will rid the fountain head of the house pest. Put some of it into the dust bath and in a little while you will have the poultry in good condition.

There was an increase, compared with April of last year, in our exports of cattle, fresh beef, tallow, hams, oleomargarine oil and butter, and a decrease in canned beef, bacon, lard and cheese. The value of exports of provisions was $12,540,351 against $12,235,342 last April.

John B. Allen, of Tacoma, is reported as saying that he will store 10,000 cases of eastern eggs in Iowa for this market. He thinks the eastern eggs will keep the best, because the eastern hens get more time than the Washington hens from the soil; hence the eastern eggs are not so porous and keep better.

To make alfalfa hay, cut in the forenoon and let it wilt; then rake into windrows. It should be cured in windrows and cocks, and stacked or put in barns with as little handling as possible. Great care is required in order to get in stacks before the leaves become too dry and brittle. The leaves are the most palatable and nutritious part of the hay.

Statistics show that during the year 1896 there was imported into the state of Washington from the middle states over one hundred and sixty six thousand dozen eggs, at an average cost of 18 cents per dozen. Here we see drained from our midst over $30,000 for eggs alone, while the amount paid for imported poultry was probably not less than $20,000.

Not all eggs that go on the market are used for food. The calico print works use over 40,000,000 eggs each year. Photographic establishments use millions of dozens, and wine clarifiers use 10,000,000. The demand from these sources increase faster than the table demand. They are used by bookbinders, kid glove manufacturers and for finishing fine leather.

A simple and cheap means of destroying lice is to place in the entrance of the hen house a shallow dish in such a manner as to compel the fowls to walk through it when going to roost. In this dish put a little kerosene oil, just enough to wet the bottoms of their feet. The fumes of the oil among the feathers makes life a burden to the lice, and they quit business. Crude oil is best for this purpose, as it does not evaporate so fast.

A contributor to the Northwest Horticulturist writes the following on prune curing: "Saccharine and albumen give the prune its value and it is therefore necessary to cure the prune when these elements are thoroughly matured. A prune cannot be too ripe to cure well. Analysis made at one of the stations, of specimens of the French prune as freshly gathered from orchards showed 17 per cent of saccharine at first, but part of the same lot was laid aside in a cool warehouse, and there analyzed a few days later when it was found to have 38 per cent of saccharine. This shows that we should keep the prune after it falls from the tree as long as possible instead of gathering before fully ripe and curing before fully matured. 'Prunes cured before fully ripe have little substance of flavor, and are not salable at good prices.'

CROPS AND WEATHER.

Oregon crop and weather bulletin for the week ending May 25, 1896:

Crops—There is great virtue in the rays of an Oregon sun. This is made evident from the change in the tone of the reports received this week. An increase of sunshine and a much higher temperature has made the crop situation more hopeful. There is an inclination to "go forth in the open air and list to nature's teachings." Very favorable reports come from all portions of Washington county. A correspondent from Gales creek says: "The weather of the past week has been very favorable to all farm work, and to the growth of vegetation. All grain and grasses are advancing rapidly under the influence of warmer weather." Farmers are sowing oats and planting peas and potatoes. The ground is full of moisture, so that it is difficult to plow. A Marion county correspondent says the farmers will sow grain up to the 10th of June. The opinion is more in favor of sowing oats. The ground is so moist that the crops could stand a long period of dry weather. An effort is being made to plant gardens. Fall and winter-sown grain has a good appearance, except in low, damp places, where it has been drowned by rain. A Lane county correspondent says corn has been planted and grain has resumed its proper shade. In Jackson and Josephine counties grain and grasses are making a wonderful growth; in Douglas county too much rain fell. All garden work is nearing a close in the southern counties. A favorable condition exists also in the southern coast counties, while in the northern counties it has continued too wet.

Fruit—There has not been a material change in the fruit prospects, nor can the true situation be determined until the weather settles and the injured fruit has fallen. The fruit crop is now in a doubtful state. The prospect for an apple crop is good in Washington county; trees are still blooming. In the valley generally prunes are falling badly. Some rare varieties about Salem escaped injury, and are holding on well. Pears are sharing the fate of the prunes, and are falling also, rarely an orchard having escaped. Cherries are badly damaged, but some trees in protected places escaped injury and the extent of the damage will not be so great as to prunes and pears. In Marion county the impression is current that the fruit situation is growing worse. Strawberries are recovering, and small fruits generally are doing well.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Our Great Features

THE JOURNAL is pre-eminently a paper for the people, in news, politics and editorial opinions.

Farm Department

THE JOURNAL does not pretend to be an agricultural paper, but keeps up a well-edited farm department, by a competent farmer, who knows the needs of the Oregon farmer. It also contains correct market reports.

Woman's Department

A large volume of social news and good home matter of interest to the feminine part of the family is one of the attractive features of THE JOURNAL, the only newspaper in Oregon employing a lady editor.

Youth's Department

This feature is one of great value to a family with boys and girls. THE JOURNAL will not publish wishy-washy stuff in this department, but good, bracing material of an entertaining and educating character.

A Modern Newspaper

THE JOURNAL is the first and only paper in Oregon to meet the hard times by reducing the price and sending out only what papers are paid for in advance, and runs no bills. All papers are stopped when the time expires. This is important, and you should take benefit of it, instead of paying out more money for poorer papers. Subscribe now, and interest your friends in THE JOURNAL, if they are not already taking it.
